Cinema Technology E-MAG is an exciting online edition of the print version and provides a truly worldwide window for everybody in the business.

Access for readers is free - wherever and whenever they want, and the latest page turning software allows them to zoom, search, archive and print* to their very own desk top.

Advertisers and editorial contributors can establish live web and e-mail links straight from the page and advertisers will have options incorporating animation, audio and video.

Advertisements appearing in Cinema Technology print version will appear online free of charge and as a special bonus all web/e-mail links in the June launch edition will be activated at no cost (normal cost GBP30 plus VAT each link).
